

Institute for Emerging Issues

CHANGING
LANDSCAPES:
BUILDING
THE GOOD
GROWTH
STATE?

Transit in the Triangle: The Benefits for You and the Region

Thursday, January 28

5:00 – 8:00 p.m.

McKimmon Center, NC State University | Raleigh, NC

As a follow up to Community Forums and a Webinar series this summer, IEI and UNC-TV are teaming up again to host a conversation on regional transit options for the Triangle. As the Triangle's population grows, it is clear we will require additional transportation options to get us where we need to go.

How can transit positively affect our quality of life? What transit options are available to us that will meet our unique needs? What is transit-oriented development and how can it help promote transit for us? And, finally, what tools do we have to make transit a reality in the Triangle?

For the answers to these questions and more, mark your calendars for the Transit in the Triangle event January 28 from 5-8 p.m. at the McKimmon Center at NC State University. The event is free and open to the public, but register today because space is limited!

Register Now!

Event Speakers:

Nina Szlosberg, President, Circle Squared Media

David King, CEO and General Manager, Triangle Transit

Deborah Ross, Representative, NC General Assembly

Special thanks to our event partners Reality Check, Triangle Tomorrow, Regional Transportation Alliance, WakeUp Wake County, Capital Area Friends of Transit, Durham Orange Friends of Transit, and Emerging Tar Heel Leaders.

Institute for Emerging Issues

Campus Box 7406 - NCSU Raleigh, North Carolina 27695-7406

Tel. 919.515.7741 Fax 919.513.7535 Email institute@ncsu.edu

